Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

Paper No(s)/Mail Date. ____.
- 5) ☐ Notice of Informal Patent Application (PTO-152)
- 6) ☐ Other: ____.

DETAILED ACTION

Priority

1. Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

3. Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sautome et al (US 6,502,027).

Sautome et al disclose a system for a transmission in which primary pressure is applied to a primary pulley connected to an engine side and secondary pressure is applied to a secondary pulley connected to an output shaft, comprising: a brake sensor (18) to detect a brake state being ON or OFF; a throttle opening sensor (col. 4 lines 38-46) to detect a throttle valve opening; a primary hydraulic pressure sensor (col. 4 lines

Art Unit: 3682

38-42) to detect said primary pressure; a secondary hydraulic pressure sensor (col. 4 lines 38-42) to detect said secondary pressure; and reverse torque input detection means for detecting a reverse torque input to said output shaft, wherein said reverse torque input detection means determines the presence of a reverse torque input to said output shaft (col. 6 lines 52-62), after said throttle opening sensor detects a throttle valve fully closed and said brake sensor detects said brake state changed from ON to OFF, when said primary pressure is equal to or lower, by a predetermined value, than said primary pressure detected when said brake sensor detected said brake state being ON, and said secondary pressure is higher, by a predetermined value, than said secondary pressure detected when said brake sensor detected said brake state being ON (col. 6 line 52- col. 7 line 6).

Re claim 2, said reverse torque input detection means perform the detection of a reverse torque input to said output shaft, after a specified period of time has elapsed since said brake sensor detected said brake state changed from ON to OFF col. 5 lines 17-29).

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

2004/0110584	Sawada et al	(pressure sensor)
2004/0127331	Sawada et al	(pressure sensor)
